FOREWORD

The world stands out on either side
No wider than the heart is wide;
Above the world is stretched the sky,-
No higher than the soul is high.
The heart can push the sea and land
Farther away on either hand;
The soul can split the sky in two,
And let the face of God shine through.
-Edna St. Vincent Millay-

Alma Mater

A song, a song of gladness,
A song of praise and cheer,
We sing with hearts rejoicing
To our Alma Mater dear.
With hearts so true and loyal,
Our highest tributes bring;
To you we'll e'er be faithful,
To you we'll always sing.

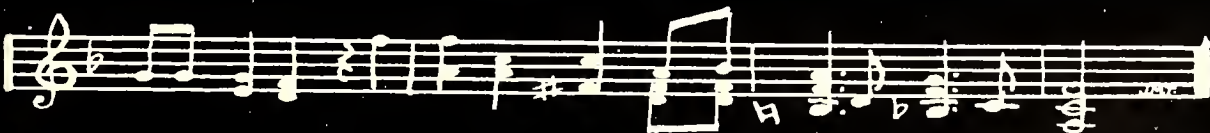

Oh, may our Alma Mater ever,
In culture, pow'r, and might,
Move on in every feature,
Of the honor we know right.
And may the love that binds us
Protect what e'er we do,
While thoughts always noble
Inspire and keep us true.

Chorus:
Alma Mater, we love thee;
Our hearts are sincere and true.
Alma Mater, we love thee
With a love, a love that is ever new.
Your ideals that we cherish,
Inspire us to heights unknown,
Alma Mater, we love thee,
We go on and on and on.

-Dorothy Turlington

DEDICATION

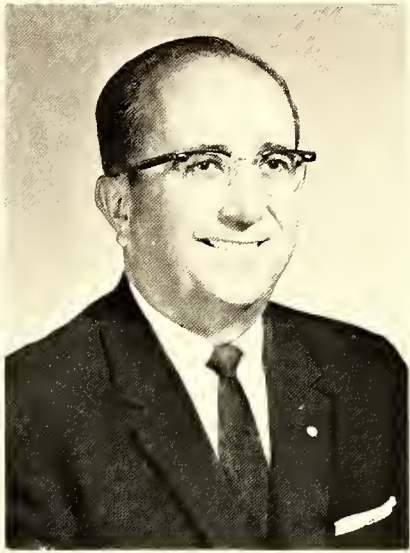

In appreciation of her efforts to give her students a foundation in English, her helpfulness to the senior class in planning their trip to Washington, her inspiration of the girls' basketball team, and her never-failing interest in us as young people, we, the staff of the 1962 WAGRUB, dedicate this seventh volume of our annual to

CLASS

Wednesday, August 20, 1958! We were in high school at last. We numbered eighty-two. Our class officers were Johnny Westbrook, Mary Emma Blanchard, Lucille Balcombe, Mary Ann Jonkheer, and Christine Leimone. Our class had officers in every club and organization in which freshmen could participate. We took pride also in the fact that our class was well represented in all three sports. As a grandfinale to our freshman year in high school, our class boarded the new activity bus one day in the latter part of April and headed for Raleigh. On May 19, 1959, our freshman year came to a close, and three months of long-awaited summer vacation began.

In August we returned to our Alma Mater as sophomores. We chose Joe Bryant Newkirk, Hugh Highsmith, Wilma Lee Wright, Johnny Westbrook and Julia Mallard to lead our class. Again this year our class was well represented in the sports field. Members of our class on the football squad were Johnny Westbrook, Joe Bryant Newkirk, Hugh Highsmith, Boyd Benson, Wayne McLendon, David Powers, Alan Jordan, Richard Collins, and Bill George. Sophomores on the boys' basketball squad were Hugh Highsmith, Joe Bryant Newkirk, Johnny Westbrook, and Wayne McLendon; on the girls' basketball squad were Wilma Lee Wright, Christine Leimone, Ruth Batson, Kay Haynie, Judy Futch, Susie Young, Joyce Herring, and Yvonne Rivenbark. Thus in May of 1960, we completed the first half of our high school career.

We began our junior year with fifty-six members in our class. Elected to lead us this year were Wayne McLendon, Johnny Westbrook, Mary Emma Blanchard, Joe Bryant Newkirk, and Lucille Balcombe. We used a western theme for our Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, which we all enjoyed very much. As a result of several months of hard work and cooperative effort on the part of the members of the class, we were able to spend a glorious week-end in Washington, D. C. The class raised the necessary funds for this trip by having numerous bake sales, a rummage sale, a barbecue supper, and various other projects. This trip was the highlight of our junior year and a dream come true.

HISTORY

Then came our senior year--our last year as a part of Burgaw High School. Elected as our officers were Hugh Highsmith, Joe Bryant Newkirk, Mary Emma Blanchard, Judy Futch, and Julia Mallard. Our Homecoming Queen was Nora Walton with Patsy Deal as her Maid-of-Honor and Alice Mzingo as Senior Representative. On October 31, our class was deeply saddened by the loss of one of our class members, Elna Kaye Best, who was killed in an automobile accident. Our senior representatives on the cheering squad were Mary Emma Blanchard, Patsy Deal, and Joanna Thomson. We are looking forward to the Junior-Senior, the senior play, and then the biggest event of all--graduation! And thus ends our four years at Burgaw High School. We had laid the foundation. What lies ahead?

STUDENT LIFE

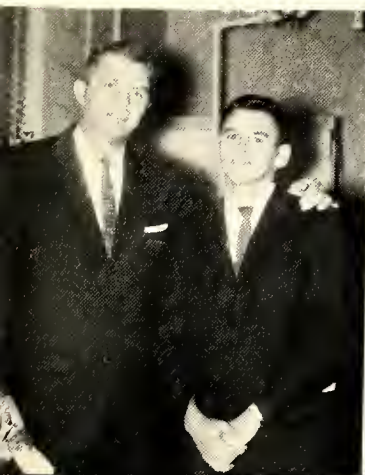

From beginning to end, our school year has been packed with activity. Football season began with the start of school. The team showed great improvement and lots of spirit under the new coach. Homecoming festivities got under way with a giant bonfire and pep rally, followed by the parade and motorcade. At the big game with Chadbourn, Nora Walton was crowned Homecoming queen and Patsy Deal, maid of honor. The season ended with a banquet honoring the team and cheerleaders featuring Clyde Walker, coach at Needham Broughton High School in Raleigh, as guest speaker.

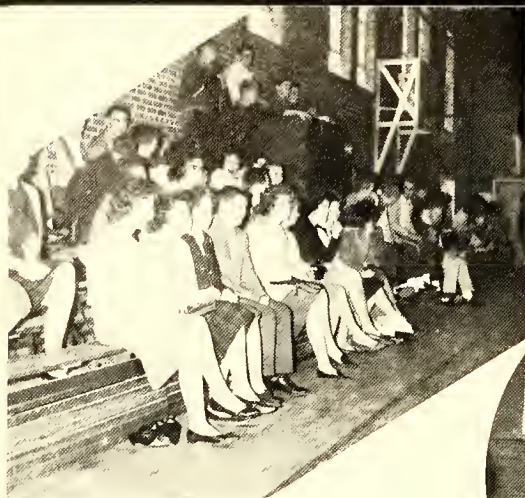

A highlight for the seniors was getting their class rings. All the underclassmen envied and admired them.

The Future Homemakers of America had their annual initiation day and Mother-Daughter Banquet. Poor initiates—they practically supplied the high school with candy that day.

Christmas would never be complete without the Glee Club concert, and this year was no exception. The music was superb. The end of vacation brought exams and studying—even during activity period!

With the start of second semester, basketball became the vogue. The teams could play only on Friday and Saturday nights, so everyone went to the games and cheered. The girls won first place in the county; the boys, third. In addition to the varsity teams, each class had intramural teams which played during activity period. Participants and spectators "had a blast."

STUDENT LIFE

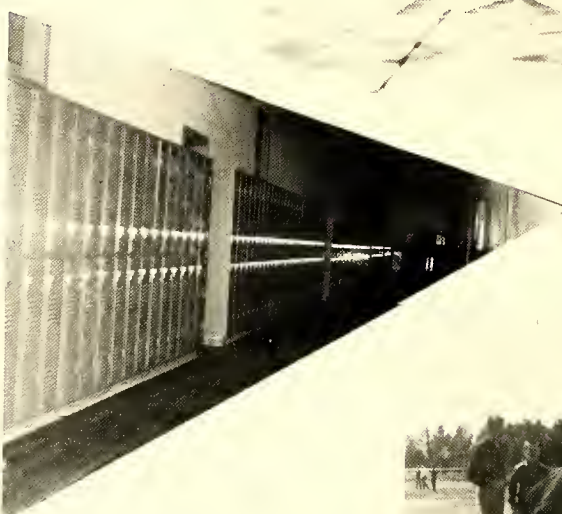

At last the lockers came, giving us a place to keep books and coats. It seemed as if they would never come, but they did.

With the coming of spring, the ice cream store became even more popular. It was moved to a new room, and its old quarters turned into a classroom to be used next year when Long Creek High School consolidates with Burgaw.

Almost all of the clubs and classes had projects to raise money. The seniors sold magazines, hemp belts, tickets to the P. T. A. barbeque, and "gator pegs"; and had a rummage sale. The juniors washed cars and sold magazines. The sophomores and freshmen sold magazines. The Latin Club, the Beta Club, and the cheerleaders each had bake sales. The Beta Club also had a barbeque supper. Sounds like a rich school, doesn't it?

The Junior-Senior banquet and prom with the theme "South Pacific" was a big hit. Everyone enjoyed the Senior Play, TIGER HOUSE. All Beta Club members remember the good times at the convention in Raleigh.

The end of May brings graduation for the seniors and promotion for everyone else. There are three long months of summer vacation ahead. Hasn't it been a wonderful year to look back on?

BEAUTY CONTESTANTS

These girls represented Burgaw School in the Miss Pender County contest held September 13, 1961 at the Pender County Agricultural Fair. Miss Nancy Swain of Burgaw was crowned Miss Pender County. Several of the other girls were in the finals.

Barbara Walton, Linda Gorsky, Nora Walton, Kay Haynie and Nancy Swain represented Burgaw School in the Miss Pender County contest.

FAIR

Burgaw School was well represented in the Fair Princess contest at the Pender County Agricultural Fair.

These girls represented their classes in the Homecoming festivities on September 29, 1961, which consisted of a bonfire, parade, ballgame with Chadbourne, and dance. The senior class won the contest between classes for the best representation at the bonfire and parade.

Peggy Nobles, Mary Alice Leimone, Betsy Dees, and Cathy Croom.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the senior class of 1962, being of sound body and of comparatively sound mind, do hereby leave all our earthly possessions as follows:

To the faculty we leave some peace and quiet after our graduation until the school doors open again next fall.

To the Juniors we will all our success in raising money and taking long trips. We'll even leave them our rummage sales.

To the Sophomores we leave open all the offices we have held in previous years.

To the Freshmen we give our well known reputation as "Guinea Pigs."

To the rest we bequeath our brains, our personalities, our distinguished features, and our adored ways.

The individual Seniors will the following treasured possessions:

Lucille Balcombe and Patsy Flynn leave to Becky Pearsall their "twist" steps. Ruth Batson wills her good sportsmanship to Mary Jo White.

Boyd Benson leaves a few "famous hot dogs" to C. W. Casey and Eugene Murray. Janet Blake leaves her pretty features to Peggy Ramsey who can already hold her own with anyone.

Mary Emma Blanchard wills her position on the cheering squad to Marion Johnson. Betty Brown bequeaths her ability to love one person to Sandra Pridgen. Katie Carter leaves her desire to graduate to Billy Carter.

Richard Collins leaves some of his "quiet" ways to loud Hodges Bell. Allen Ray Croom leaves to Elwood Meadows his out-of-town girls.

Patsy Deal wills her responsibilities as Homecoming Chairwoman to Ann Batson. Gary Foy bestows his title of "Most Unique" upon Ralph Croom. Judy Futch leaves her position on the basketball team to Billie Lou Simmons. Bill George leaves a little of his humor with Tim Turner.

Kay Haynie wills her ability to pay attention on class to Carolyn Meeks. Joyce "Sam" Herring leaves her sister Gail Herring her ability to play basketball.

Hugh Highsmith leaves Kenneth Futch his football uniform. Go Kenny Boy, go! Glenda Johnson wills her ability to have a good time in Penderlea to Patty Karwoski. Jonnette Johnson leaves to Linda Pierce, Kathleen Meeks, and Hazel Rivenbark her desire to have a good time.

Alan Jordan wills his knowledge of when to pull out chairs for people to Earl Wells. Johnny Kraynick leaves his ability to sleep in class to Stanley Sisson. Pauline Lanier and Alice Mazingo leave their abilities to date senior boys to Virginia Richardson.

Christine Leimone leaves her ability to go with an Atkinson boy to Cheryl McNeill. Julia Mallard wills her desire to get out of BHS as fast as possible to Wayne Cowan and Bud Chadwick. Anita Marshburn gives her title of "Most Bashful" to Elaine Hardison who certainly isn't.

Faye Marshburn leaves her great understanding of chemistry to Marilyn Wells. Stonie McKoy leaves his ability to wander into class late to Harold Fields, Robert Wells, and Lawrence Grady. Now you too can be the teachers' delight. Wayne McLendon surrenders at least four inches of his height to Dalton Wells.

Deanna Meadows gives some sisterly advice to Kelly Meadows. Poor fellow, he certainly needs it. Hilda Meadows leaves her shyness to William Naumuk. Alex Meeks wills Clifford Horrell his physique. Clifford is such an undernourished child. Kathy Moore wills Carolyn Horrell her ability to date out-of-town boys.

Mary B. Narron wills Fred Kessler a few of her dance steps. Joe Bryant Newkirk leaves his split-personality to Ronnie and Donnie Blanchard. Which half do you choose? Edwin Pierce wills his title of cutest boy to Carl Edward Hewett. David Powers leaves his brain to poor, dumb Bill Chaffin.

Gayle Powers wills Nancy Wells her long fingernails. Barbara Price leaves her good times in Washington to anybody who can get there. Catherine Rivenbark leaves her "Mrs." degree to Marsha Murray. Now, earn it, Marsha. Yvonne Rivenbark bestows her long blond locks upon Bonnie Fulcher.

Bradford Rowe wills all his fun at Castle Hayne to Robert Jonkheer. Carrie Rowe leaves her knack for drawing Santas and turkeys to Melba Murray. Sherrie Sherman bestows her soft voice and dainty ways upon Gail Pridgen.

Jimmy Spender leaves his salesmanship abilities to James Deal and David Sanderson. Joanna Thomson leaves her large wardrobe to Mary Saunders. Carolyn Tokoly offers to give Mary Ann Jonkheer a few of her curly locks. Nellie Vdovich wills her figure to Carolyn Rivenbark.

Nora Walton leaves to Jane Lanier her good times in Maple Hill. Remember those ---- cans in the mailbox? Pearl Watkins leaves his ability to cook good cakes to Freddy McKoy and Gene Chadwick. Charles Wells wills Bertice Lanier just EVERYTHING!

Johnny Westbrook leaves Gary Trawick and Larry Henderson his leadership capabilities. Carol Winborne bestows her musical talents upon Lillian Ann Harrell. Jerry Wooten wills his long "train" No. 53 to his brother Julian.

Joan Wooten gets rid of all her geometry problems by willing them to Jimmy Price and Edward Rivenbark. Sue Wooten leaves her good conduct grades to "Bro" Durham and Allen James. Changes the appearance of your report cards, doesn't it? Susie Young bequeaths her "ideas for everything" to Marie Blackmore.

We, the authors of this Last Will and Testament, for the above reasons, now leave the country.

CLASS PROPHECY

TIME: 1980

Hi! Here we are at the airport in Los Angeles, California. I am Carolyn Tokoly, secretary to Joe Bryant Newkirk, world famous comedian. We are on our way to Venus where Joe Bryant is scheduled for a performance in a few days. With us is his publicity agent, Mary Emma Blanchard. We are all rather excited because this is our first trip into outer space. We are to travel in one of our newest and fastest rockets.

We have heard that a lot of our classmates, the "twistin'" class of '62, are now living in Venus; therefore, we plan to see them before we return to Earth.

We have to hurry now; they are calling the passengers to the rocket. As we near the rocket we are surprised to see that the stewardess is Barbara Price, a member of our class. She helps us get settled and we are soon on our way. After a few hours, our excitement and nervousness is not so great, and we begin to look around at the other passengers. We find that traveling with us are Edwin Pierce and his band. He says that he is playing at the Space-Beat, which happens to be the same place where Joe Bryant will soon entertain. We tell him of our plan to look up our classmates and he says that one of them is in his band; Johnny Westbrook, his saxophone player. At this time we see Johnny coming toward us from another part of the rocket. He says that he has been exploring the rocket and has found that our pilots are Charles Wells and Allen Croom.

A few hours later Barbara helps us prepare for landing. At last, we are on Venus. We step from the rocket and get our first view of Venus. We have at last proved with our own eyes that there are no little green men living here. We are surprised and pleased to see a very modern city.

We immediately establish ourselves at the Hotel Starlight, owned by Miss Deanna Meadows and Sue Wooten. While resting from the trip we glance through a newspaper. We notice that it is owned by Susie Young. Her editor is Johnny Paluck. At this time Lucille Balcombe enters the hotel lobby. We greet her eagerly. She says she is searching for society news because she is society editor of Susie's newspaper. We ask if she knows of any of our classmates living here. She says that Catherine (Kitty) Rivenbark and Mrs. James Casteen, the former Betty Brown, are happily married and living near her. She also says if we read a little more of the newspaper we will see another familiar name. We look on the next page and see Christine Leimone's advice column. This does not surprise us because she was another Ann Landers while still in high school.

The next day we planned to explore the city. We decided Main Street was a good place to start. The first store we see is the Joanna Shop. We go in and find our old friend Joanna Thomson. We are pleased to find that she is now Mrs. Boyd Benson. She tells us that Boyd has a men's clothing store right next door. We leave her and continue down the street. We then see a Lanier's Beauty Shop and stop in to see Pauline Lanier. She welcomes us while styling some of the newest space-age hairdos. As we leave the beauty shop the sound of music leads us to the doors of a dancing studio. We wander inside and soon find that the dancing instructors are Mary B. Narron and Kay Haynie. They are presently teaching the latest dance sensation, the "cosmic hop."

PLACE: Planet Earth

We stop at the Johnson & Johnson Tea Room for lunch and of course find Jonnette Johnson and Glenda Johnson. Their waitress are Katie Rae Carter and Kathy Moore. We comment on the good food and are told that Carrie Rowe and Joan Wooten are the cooks.

As we leave the tea room we see a large modern school across the street. Since the children are out to lunch recess we decided to look for the teachers and see if we know any of them. We are surprised to find so many of our friends. Sherrie Sherman is teaching the first grade. Judy Futch is teaching math; Julia Mallard, home economics; Patsy Deal, English; and Carol Winborne is the piano teacher. Anita Marshburn is the school librarian and she tells us that her sister, Faye Marshburn, is the librarian at the city library. Ruth Batson and Joyce (Sam) Herring are physical education teachers, and David Powers is janitor and friend of all the students. Wayne McLendon is the principal of the school and his wife, the former Alice Mazingo, is his secretary. While talking with the teachers we learn that our senior class president, Hugh Highsmith, has recently been elected president of Venus, and tonight a party is being given in his honor and we are all invited.

When we leave the school, we continue our tour and stop at the hospital. As we enter the quiet corridors, we hear the intercom calling a Dr. Wooten. We stop a group of nurses, who are Nellie Vdovich, Yvonne Rivenbark, and Nora Walton, and they tell us that this doctor is our old classmate, Jerry Wooten.

We are now on our way to the party. We want to get there early so that we can speak to the guest of honor before the crowds get to him. The caterers have just arrived. Their boss is Richard Collins. He says it's the best way to get to all the big parties. Working for him are Stoney McCoy and Gary Foy. His bartender is Jimmy Spender.

At the party we see Bill George, who is a mortician. We are glad to see him but will not promise to give him any business while we are here. We find that Johnny Krainick has become a stock car driver and he says that to keep in good physical condition he goes to Alex Meeks's Gym.

This is the night that Joe Bryant is to perform at the night club, Space-Beat. As we enter the night club, the owner comes to greet us personally. He is Bradford Rowe. He leads us to a choice table. While sitting there before the show Janet Blake and Patsy Flynn enter and cause quite a stir in the audience. Both are quite well known. Janet as an authoress and Patsy as a model.

We leave for the planet Earth immediately after the show. We buy our tickets from Hilda Meadows and check our luggage with Pearlle Watkins. Our stewardess on the way back is Gayle Powers.

We arrive home safe and sound. We enjoyed our trip to Venus and the renewal of our old friendships, but we are glad to be home.
